- Public sector borrowing requirements (Jan-Apr): $219.4bn deficit (~US$11.0bn)
- Public balance (Jan-Apr): $109.7bn deficit (~US$5.5bn)
- Primary balance (Jan-Apr): $64.2bn surplus (~US$2.6bn)
- Budget revenues increased 2.4% y/y in real terms, with a strong expansion in oil (64.8%), given a more favorable base, albeit with non-oil lower (-3.4%), with tax-related income declining (-2.8%)
- Expenditures were up 4.2% y/y in real terms, with a relevant expansion in administrative branches (20.3%) as well as in Pemex (19.6%) and CFE (17.4%), partly offset by a decline in autonomous branches (-8.7%)

- The Historic Balance of Public Sector Borrowing Requirements stood at $12.3 trillion (~US$617.4bn)

PSBRs post a $219.4 billion deficit in the first four months of the year. The Ministry of Finance released its public finance report for April, in which we highlight the $219.4 billion deficit in Public Sector Borrowing Requirements (PSBR) –the broadest measure of the public balance¹–. This compares to the $83.3 billion deficit seen in the previous year. The 'traditional' public balance posted a $109.7 billion deficit, better than expected by $105.7 billion, due to both higher revenues and lower expenditures. Finally, the primary surplus stood at $52.9 billion (estimate; -$16.4 billion).

Total revenues up 2.4% y/y in real terms. According to the MoF, revenues totaled $2,000.1 billion, $55.6 billion higher than projected. Oil-related income came in at $271.6 billion, representing a 64.8% increase in real terms relative to 2020. This is mainly explained by a more favorable base effect in prices, albeit also in volumes, remembering that these declined last year due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Despite this, they came in $41.5 below estimates. Meanwhile, tax revenues amounted to $1,297.6 billion, overshooting projections by $4.2 billion, albeit falling 2.8%. Inside, almost all categories were lower in annual terms except for import taxes (7.7%). To the downside, we highlight income tax collection (-1.8%), VAT (-0.2%) and excise-tax collection (-13.2%), with the latter dragged by those related to gasoline, reflecting the effects of fiscal stimulus to moderate price increases.

¹ The PSBRs include the sum of the Public Balance, the financial requirements of the Mexican Bank Savings Protection Institute, financial requirements of deferred investment projects, adjustments to budget records, financial requirements of the National Infrastructure Funds, program of debtors and the expected gain or loss of development banks and development funds.

Revenues from government-controlled entities (IMSS and ISSSTE) came in at $147.4 billion, a 1.5% decrease, while those of CFE fell 17.5% at $114.9 billion. Finally, non-oil, non-tax revenues ('other' in the table below) posted a 2.4% expansion, amounting to $168.6 billion.

Budget spending rises 4.2% y/y. Total spending reached $2,131.9 billion, $28.1 billion lower than budgeted. In this context, primary spending rose to $1,955.6 billion, which implies a 6.5% y/y expansion, with financial costs at $176.3 billion (-15.9%). Within the former, the programmable component grew 9.7%, amounting to $1,608.7 billion. We highlight the 20.3% increase in administrative branches, with strong expansions in the Ministry of Agrarian and Urban Development (367.4%) and Energy (128.6%), albeit with declines in the Ministry for Public Security (-49.2%) and Economy (-26.3%). In addition, spending by Pemex increased 19. 6%, with CFE also higher at 17.4%. Meanwhile, outlays from government-controlled entities (IMSS and ISSSTE) advanced 4.8%, driven by IMSS at +70.8%. On the contrary, autonomous branches fell 8.7%. Inside, we note declines in INEGI (-78.0%) and the Federal Tribunal for Administrative Justice (-14.3%). Lastly, non-programmable spending excluding debt financial costs fell 6.5% to $346.9 billion, stemming from the 2.2% decline in participations -transfers to states under the federal tax collection agreement, and -88.2% in ADEFAS.
