Main drivers for the financial markets today...

- Stock markets, government bond yields and commodities higher while the USD weakens, with all eyes on the US elections. Specifically, several models and surveys point to a Biden win. Nevertheless, polls in swing states such as Pennsylvania, Florida, and Georgia are still quite close. In this sense, first figures will start flowing once voting closes on eastern states at 8:00pm ET. It should be mentioned that so far around 99 million votes have been casted in an early fashion or through mail, which suggests that participation will be high, which might be beneficial for the Democrats
- On Congressional elections, available information signals that Democrats will win both in the House of Representatives as well as in the Senate, which would have strong implications regarding the public policies which could be enacted going forward
- Today's Eurogroup meeting focused in the implementation of stimulus packages and the cooperation in the region in a context in which the situation regarding the virus has turned complicated
- Today's agenda includes factory orders, durable goods and auto sales in the US, while in Mexico family remittances and Banxico's survey

Equities

- Positive movements in equity markets as investors focus their attention on the US presidential election today and show some optimism that the results will reflect a clear winner. On the other hand, in the corporate front, out of the 16 S&P 500 companies scheduled to report today, 10 have already updated investors with most outperforming estimates, including Emerson Electric and Exelon Corp
- In Asia, the markets closed positive. In Japan there were no operations due to being a holiday. In Europe stocks advance, the Euro Stoxx adds 1.8%. Shares from banks (supported by BNP Paribas report better than expected), energy and mining sectors lead gains. In turn, in the US the futures of main indices point to a higher open by rising 1.1% on average
- In Mexico operations will resume after yesterday's holiday and the Mexbol may stand above the 37,500 pts.

Sovereign fixed income, currencies and commodities

- Sovereign global bonds under pressure with US Treasuries printing losses of up to 3bps in long-term securities, while European dynamics depict a stronger performance in peripherals. Sharp steepening bias last week in the local fixed-income market
- The USD weakens with all the G10 universe positive where NOK outperforms with a 1.5% rally, while EM also trades strong excluding TRY extending the recent sell-off. RUB leads the gains with a 1.4% strengthening and the USD/MXN appreciates 1.0% to 21.17, touching yesterday 21.50
- Crude-oil prices bounce back with strong pressures recently due to the worries on demand effects derived from new social distancing measures, backed today by possible delays in OPEC+ supply cut easing in the following months. The metals' space performance on a positive note

Moreover, we also state that we have not received, nor receive, or will receive compensation other than that of Grupo Financiero Banorte S.A.B. of C.V for the provision of our services.

Relevant statements.

In accordance with current laws and internal procedures manuals, analysts are allowed to hold long or short positions in shares or securities issued by companies that are listed on the Mexican Stock Exchange and may be the subject of this report; nonetheless, equity analysts have to adhere to certain rules that regulate their participation in the market in order to prevent, among other things, the use of private information for their benefit and to avoid conflicts of interest. Analysts shall refrain from investing and holding transactions with securities or derivative instruments directly or through an intermediary person, with Securities subject to research reports, from 30 calendar days prior to the issuance date of the report in question, and up to 10 calendar days after its distribution date.

Compensation of Analysts.

Analysts' compensation is based on activities and services that are aimed at benefiting the investment clients of Casa de Bolsa Banorte and its subsidiaries. Such compensation is determined based on the general profitability of the Brokerage House and the Financial Group and on the individual performance of each analyst. However, investors should note that analysts do not receive direct payment or compensation for any specific transaction in investment banking or in other business areas.

Last-twelve-month activities of the business areas.

Grupo Financiero Banorte S.A.B. de C.V., through its business areas, provides services that include, among others, those corresponding to investment banking and corporate banking, to a large number of companies in Mexico and abroad. It may have provided, is providing or, in the future, will provide a service such as those mentioned to the companies or firms that are the subject of this report. Casa de Bolsa Banorte or its affiliates receive compensation from such corporations in consideration of the aforementioned services.

Over the course of the last twelve months, Grupo Financiero Banorte S.A.B. C.V., has not obtained compensation for services rendered by the investment bank or by any of its other business areas of the following companies or their subsidiaries, some of which could be analyzed within this report.

Activities of the business areas during the next three months.

HOLD	When the share expected performance is similar to the MEXBOL estimated performance.
SELL	When the share expected performance is lower than the MEXBOL estimated performance.

Even though this document offers a general criterion of investment, we urge readers to seek advice from their own Consultants or Financial Advisors, in order to consider whether any of the values mentioned in this report are in line with their investment goals, risk and financial position.

Determination of Target Prices

For the calculation of estimated target prices for securities, analysts use a combination of methodologies generally accepted among financial analysts, including, but not limited to, multiples analysis, discounted cash flows, sum-of-the-parts or any other method that could be applicable in each specific case according to the current regulation. No guarantee can be given that the target prices calculated for the securities will be achieved by the analysts of Grupo Financiero Banorte S.A.B. C.V, since this depends on a large number of various endogenous and exogenous factors that affect the performance of the issuing company, the environment in which it performs, along with the influence of trends of the stock market, in which it is listed. Moreover, the investor must consider that the price of the securities or instruments can fluctuate against their interest and cause the partial and even total loss of the invested capital.

The information contained hereby has been obtained from sources that we consider to be reliable, but we make no representation as to its accuracy or completeness. The information, estimations and recommendations included in this document are valid as of the issue date, but are subject to modifications and changes without prior notice; Grupo Financiero Banorte S.A.B. of C.V. does not commit to communicate the changes and also to keep the content of this document updated.
